

This service is intended for clients who have received a response back from an RFP and want a rapid review and critique.

ITI Consulting will provide initial counseling and guidance, helping you to understand the proposal. We can come onsite or we will perform the review and answer your questions by telephone and email.

We will then review your proposal and other submission documents (for example, budget pages and other forms), and then provide the following:

1. A written critique of the proposal.
2. A telephone debriefing.

Our Proposal Review Service typically consumes 12 hours of work over two or three days. Work may be accomplished on an emergency or short-notice basis, subject to scheduling and availability. ITI Consulting's Proposal Review Service is usually offered at a set price.
